DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

   I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a process (method of operating a system), classified in class 376, subclass 207.

   II. Claims 7-11, drawn to a process (method of operating a system), classified in class 376, subclass 215.

   III. Claims 12-15, drawn to an apparatus (system having a plurality of modes), classified in class 376, subclass 277.

   IV. Claims 16-19, drawn to an apparatus (computer readable medium), classified in class 360, subclass 135.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons: Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case, invention I switches from a first mode of operation to a second mode of operation without going to a standby operation. Invention II switches from a first mode of operation, changing the system, and reinitializing the system in first mode. Clearly, such provides for different modes of operation, different function, and different effects.

3. Inventions III and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the details of the subcombination as separately claimed are not set forth in the combination. The subcombination has separate utility such as game software or a paper weight.

4. Inventions I/II and III/IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the process as claimed can be practiced by hand by a trained reactor plant operator.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Upon election of invention I, II, III or IV, the applicant is further required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect one of the following disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable (currently, claim 1 is generic to invention I, claim 7 is generic to invention II, claim 12 is generic to invention III, and claim 16 is generic to invention IV):

A. Embodiment wherein the fail-safe initiation logic instruction consists of only two modes.

B. Embodiment wherein the fail-safe initiation logic instruction is greater than two modes.

7. Upon election of the species identified above the applicant is further required to elect a single ultimate species of the following under 35 USC 121 for the purpose of examination. This additional requirement is to facilitate examining due to the broad range of reactor plant modes available to applicant:

a. Elect the reactor plant mode (residual heat removal mode, reactor core isolation cooling mode, high pressure core flooder mode, etc.).

8. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement (e.g., I, A and a (residual heat removal mode only), listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

9. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

10. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jack Keith whose telephone number is (703) 306-5752. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday from 7:00 to 4:00.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Michael Carone, can be reached on (703) 306-4198. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is (703) 305-7687.

Any inquiry of a general nature or relating to the status of this application or proceeding should be directed to the receptionist whose telephone number is (703) 308-1113.
